Congruences modulo a prime power

To solve a congruence of the form:

$$ax \equiv b \mod p^l,$$

it suffices to solve multiple congruences mod p.
In general:

$$ax \equiv b \mod p^l \implies ax \equiv b \mod p \implies x \equiv x_0 \mod p$$